

How to implement Responsible Research and Innovation for a more Open Science & Innovation system?

8th February 2018

ACCIÓ: Passeig de Gràcia 129, Barcelona

9.30-10.00 Registration

10.00-10.10 Welcome

10.10-11.30 Responsible Research and Innovation (RRI) for a more open R&I system in Europe

Presentation on why & how to promote a more open and inclusive R&I that better responds to the needs and expectations of society and that has a higher societal impact.

11.30-12.00 Coffee Break

12.00-13.15 Workshop I: Is it necessary to rethink the way R&I is performed?

Group discussion on opportunities and obstacles to implement RRI with the point of view of the different stakeholders

13.15-14.15 Lunch

14.15-15.45 Workshop II: Methodologies to open the research process

First exploration of different methods to engage different stakeholders at different phases of the research process.¹

15.45-16.45 Workshop III: Setting participatory R&I agendas with a system approach

How can different stakeholders contribute to the research and innovation agenda? Practical example with the Co-ResponsHIVility project²

16.45-17.00 Coffee Break

17.00-18.00 Workshop IV: Multi-stakeholder reflections to enRRIch participants' projects

Working groups to reflect and to identify methods that can enhance social impact in participants' projects.

18.00 Wrap up

¹ Using the Action Catalogue www.action-catalogue.eu

² Example of methodology to set up a R&I agenda with a participatory process
<http://www.irsicaixa.es/en/living-lab-health/co-responsavilitat>